4/13 Enrichment AP World:

We worked hard to ensure that the Learning Plan provides accessibility for all learners. We hope that you see that there are options to engage learners at all levels. These activities are not intended to replace the normal school day. There is now an expectation for students to turn these documents in to your specific educators. We want you to take time to enjoy family, be safe, stay healthy and find time within this week to engage in learning opportunities. Feel free to create a schedule that works for you and your family. We strongly encourage each student to participate in approximately two hours a day. We want your brain working and challenging yourself, while staying safe and having fun. .

For this week we are going to continue to review for the AP World test.  Your folder should already be organized to match the setup below (follow the video if you're confused on the setup).  Remember, the "AP Exam Review" folder should be shared with me so I can check on your progress:
- AP Exam Review
    - Post-Classical (1200-1450)
        - Global Tapestry
        - Networks of Exchange
    - Early Modern (1450-1750)
        - Land-Based Empires
        - Transoceanic Interactions
    - Modern Period (1750-1900)
        - Consequences of Industrialization
        - Revolutions

This week, I am going to post seven files on Google Classroom.  Add those files to the folder "Networks of Exchange," and complete them by the end of the week.  This should take you about an hour.  After that task is complete, you will be prepared to write a DBQ for unit one. There will be a new rubric posted on the top and bottom of the DBQ for you to review.. Remember, you can use outside materials when writing the DBQ and also be sure to time yourself on the DBQ.  Respond directly on the file.  You will have 45 minutes to complete it on the day of the AP test.  Hold yourself to it by setting a timer or have someone in your household keep time.  There will be fewer review sheets going forward since the information will be more familiar and increase the focus on skills gauged by the results of this week's DBQ.
